Art Unit: 1746

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thrash, Jr. (U. S. Pat. No. 5,970,574) in view of Poppitz (U. S. Pat. No. 3,748,050).

Re claims 1-9, Thrash is cited disclosing a portable surface cleaner comprising a spinner bar (38), a rotary joint (32) and an inclined nozzle that differs from the claims only in the recitation of the nozzle being adjustable and there being an array of nozzles and the specific angles as claimed. The patent to Poppitz is cited disclosing is cited disclosing the adjustable nozzle as claimed (col. 3, lines 34-35). It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the nozzle in Thrash, to be adjustable as taught by Poppitz, for the purpose of altering the speed. As for the array and inner nozzles as claimed in claims 2-6, 8 and 9, to employ a plurality of nozzle is deemed to be an obvious extension of the teachings of Thrash. This is also applicable to the angles a claimed in that it is understood that is a minimum and maximum angle inherently taught by Poppitz.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. In UK'611, EPO'787, Rohrbacher et al., WIPO'211, Artenian, Montanier, Germany'550, Kubo et al., Agee, Moll et al., Sundheimm and Halls et al., note the cleanes.
